

1887 Baltimore City Directory

Street Number Index

Baltimore City addresses changed over time.

From 1845 to 1855, the numbers started from Baltimore Street and the Jones Falls.
From 1855 to 1886 the starting point was at Baltimore and Calvert Streets.
From 1886 to the present, it has been at Baltimore and Charles Streets.

In the autumn of 1886 the street numbers were officially renumbered.

The following index lists every address with both the new and old numbers.

New numbers are listed first.

Old numbers are prefixed by an asterisk (*).

If you need to look up a street name that has changed, find a copy of the book Baltimore Street Name Changes: 1730 to 2000. Thomas P. Bocek. 2007. 144 pages. [ISBN 978-1-887124-42-3].

AND

INDEX OF STREET NUMBERS.

FROM NEW TO OLD, OR OLD TO NEW,

NEW NUMBER FIRST; OLD NUMBER WITH AN * IN FRONT OF THEM FOLLOW.

The Streets of the City were officially renumbered last September, October, November and December, and the following is an Index from the Old Numbers to the New, and also from the New to the Old, of all buildings located on the different Streets, Lanes, Alleys, Courts, Wharves, &c., in the city as they appear upon the slips returned by the Contractor for renumbering.

The New Numbers are in all cases given first, and the Old Numbers prefixed by an asterisk (*) follow. When two numbers without the asterisk follow one after the other, the two have been given to the building in place of the former number, or the building had no old numbers. This occurs where there are several entrances to a building, all of which formerly went by one number, but which now have a number given to each entrance, and notably in cases of side stairways or entrances to buildings, which formerly were not numbered, but now in many instances have a number.

In all cases where there are vacant spaces or lots between buildings or streets the regular numbers have been officially assigned them. All New and Old Numbers will be found in this Index, but as there were many houses that formerly were not numbered, the New Numbers placed upon them are mentioned only.

AFTER THE NAME OF A STREET, STREET IS OMITTED.
